Vanns Codrington

Vanns, originally from the San Francisco Bay Area, has been a Career Development Coordinator at W. P. Carey since April 2017. Through a variety of professional experiences, he has developed a deep understanding of business development, entrepreneurship, and technology. Vanns earned his Bachelor’s Degree in Communication at ASU and is currently working on completing his Master’s Degree in Communication and Media Studies at ASU.

Vanns has a strong passion for communication and believes it is extremely important to be able to effectively communicate and connect with a variety of audiences. He enjoys working side-by-side with his students to develop a deeper understanding of their interests and goals, create career development strategies, and implement plans of action toward important milestones.

What do you like about your job?
I am grateful that I have the opportunity to meet with students every day. Every day is different! My job provides me the opportunity to help guide students from wherever they are in their college career to wherever they would like to be when they graduate.

What is one fun fact about your office?
That one of the coolest people around sits in my office! ...his name is Vanns.

What professional accomplishments are you most proud of?
I am most proud of being a first-generation college graduate, and being able to set the bar and serve as an example for others.

If you could one give one piece of advice to students, what would that be?
You cannot grow if you are comfortable; so venture out of your comfort-zone!
